Powerwise, the award winning PC energy saving solution helps Federal, State, and local government departments and agencies reduce PC energy consumption, and save money

Stillwater, MN (PRWEB) July __, 2011– AmeriChannels, LLC Powerwise Product Group (<http://www.PowerwiseUSA.com>), the exclusive North American publisher of Powerwise, the award winning PC power management software solution today announced the signing of DLT Federal Business Systems, Wilmington, Delaware, as a major reseller of Powerwise.

"We are extremely pleased to be introducing our PC power saving solution"

"We are extremely pleased to have DLT Federal Business Systems representing our PC power saving solution," said Brian Nelson, Marketing and Director of Business Development for the Powerwise Product Group. "Powerwise is innovative, inexpensive and easy to install. Powerwise powers up, powers down, and powers off PCs automatically to produce maximum energy savings and the resulting costs. Our relationship with DLT Federal Business Systems allows us to leverage their expertise to position Powerwise as a premier energy savings solution for any government department or agency, large or small. Going green does not have to put you in the red."

The average desktop PC wastes half of the energy it consumes. It is estimated that simply turning off or powering down PC's when not in use will save from $25 to $75 per year per PC. Yet, less than 20% of businesses have implemented energy management solutions for their PC installations and networks. And, in addition to saving dollars, Powerwise enables customers to experience the resulting reduction in carbon emissions, extend the life of their PCs and measure the ROI in months, not years.
